Exploration

CEDAR MOUNTAIN EXPLORATION (CED: TSX-V) is a mineral exploration company currently advancing its Kelly Creek Gold Property on the Seward Peninsula of Alaska, located 145km north of Nome. Kelly Creek offers significant potential for the discovery of a new gold district, in a state whose current gold production is second only to Nevada's. The completed diamond core drilling, soil sampling and mapping have confirmed a new gold district characterized by disseminated mineralization with strong stratigraphic controls. Six drillable prospects with kilometre-plus gold-in-soil anomalies in a 10 km by 20 km area have been drill tested and assays are pending. Cedar Mountain's 2011 objective is to confirm and advance a new gold district with the potential for multiple gold bulk tonnage deposits.

KEY INVESTMENT HIGHLIGHTS

- Established new gold district
- Confirmed six drillable prospects with kilometre-plus gold-in-soil anomalies in a 10 km by 20 km area
- $3M Exploration Program: 4,800m diamond drilling
- Management team with extensive experience in identifying, financing and developing projects
- Highly motivated management team with over ~22% share ownership
